MORE MONEY REVIEW

Revealing the best biz opps, uncovering the most consistent second income streams and exposing the worst scams...

This service has already received a good review in the thread and my experience is much the same as John's comments on 31 March.

As mentioned Cheltenham threw a bit of a spanner in the works but this was only a temporary blip.

I was slightly surprised to receive my first recommendation as a casino based operation but subsequent offers have been across the spectrum of bookmakers and casinos etc. Mike is certainly in touch with what becomes available in the market place. For beginners to the world of betting I would consider this a useful way of building up a betting bank without taking any great risks.

It is not an overnight process however and some patience will be required to achieve this.

Speaking personally I wish that I had been able to take advantage of this or a similar service from the outset of my betting career – it would have saved me money but more importantly will instill into you the disciplines and some useful techniques that you will need when you venture further into the water.

Like every product aimed at this market you will need to put in your own effort to achieve results and as highlighted in the thread the list of offers is not infinite and so the main appeal will probably be to newcomers.

Bonus Bagging

I have decided to change this to a one-off review. Having used this service for a week I believe I understand enough about how this service operates.

As the sales page states this service shows "you how to cash out all bonuses offered by casinos and bookmakers completely risk free and make £1000's in RISK FREE profit". You could, of course, do this for yourself but it is a faff, and for a one-off payment of £27 (currently) Mike does all the hard-work for you making this hassle free. So no subscriptions and there is a money-back guarantee too.

I have easily cleared the payment in the first week, and not from sign-up bonuses, as I am signed up with (too?) many bookmakers already. It appears that a risk-free profit target of around £500 per month is easily achievable. A nice second income!

Most of available offers can be claimed by activity in the evenings, so 9to5ers out there can use this service too.

So why not bag yourself some risk-free money and sign-up today?

Happy to approve this service.

Bonus Bagging is an email service ran by a guy called Mike Cruickshank. As the name suggests it involves exploiting the introductory sign up offers offered by Casinos and Bookmakers in terms of cashing them out for risk free profits. This is also known as matched betting and most of us have done some form of this over the years and is by no means a new concept.

The difference here is that for a one off £27 payment Mike is offering much more than just an ebook explaining how the process works.

Upon payment the buyer receives an ebook explaining the service and how to withdraw all the bonuses successfully. On top of this there is a list of over 40 recommend "safe bookmakers" that Mike uses for Bonus Bagging and then information as to what is required when signing up is provided. The good bit about the service Mike provides is that when you sign up for a bookmaker offer all you need to do is send him an email and he will work out a risk free bet for you meaning that the most of the hard work in finding a suitable bet is taken away. Each week a risk free offer is also sent out giving the buyer an extra chance to maximise the profit they can make from Bonus Bagging. This email support is unlimited and lasts as long as the buyers wants it.

betting system review site onlineracingreview.com

I have a one off review for everyone of a product I have been using recently and have done very well with.

The product is called Bonus Bagging. The service takes advantage of risk-free matched betting to make a consistent profit from online bookies and casinos. For those who aren't familiar with the concept, what this means is using the bonuses and promotions that bookmakers offer their clients using risk free betting techniques to make a guaranteed profit.

A good example is that nearly all bookmakers offer sign-up bonuses, usually along the lines of a first deposit match, so if you deposit for example £25 after opening a new account, they will match it with a free bet of £25. You generally need to stake your £25 before they will give you the free bet, so the way you do this is to find a bet with very close odds between Betfair and the relevant bookmaker. You then place your bet for £25 at the bookies and lay the same selection for £25 on Betfair, thereby setting up a break-even trade but securing a free bet in the process. This free bet is then also set up as a trade between the bookmaker and Betfair in order to guarantee a profit no matter what the outcome.

This is where the service Bonus Bagging comes in. Its run by a guy called Mike Cruick-

This is where you can see how it works. It's very simple. You email Mike on his shank and he basically does all the work for you. Once you signed up, all you do is email him each time you want a new bet, and he will respond with a new offer, as well as a specific bet to take advantage of that offer including exactly what amounts you need to stake etc. Once you have done that, you simply email him asking for another bet and he sends the next one through, it couldn't be simpler.

The majority of initial offers are sign-up offers. I personally had accounts with most of the main bookies already but managed to make good money just by taking advantage of some of the lesser known bookies and also by opening a few accounts in my wife's name (different bookies have different rules regarding this) and also using some online casino bonuses.

Down to the nuts and bolts of it. I've been using the strategy for about a month, generally just placing a trade or 2 during my lunch break or in the evening. I managed to make £391.73 in that time. I would say £500 in the first month is very achievable, and the less bookmakers accounts you already have then the easier it is. Once you have exhausted most of the account opening offers (although Mike has a list of over 100 sign-up offers!) you can then start to generate an ongoing profit by taking advantage of the various weekly offers and reload bonuses that you get emailed through to you. You can also start to take advantage of promotions that aren't necessarily risk free but offer a large edge (there's lots of casino bonuses like this). Mike sends through weekly emails with that weeks best offers on. I can't comment about the ongoing offers and overall profitability too much as I have only been doing it a month, but Mike reckons £400-500 a month is achievable long-term. He does have a blog where he posts his ongoing profit and he seems to do very well out of it.

All in all I highly recommend the service. It cost's a small one off fee which will be comfortably made back on the 1st couple of bets. There really is no risk involved if you place the bets correctly, and it doesn't take much time at all to do. I've attached a spreadsheet of my results for everyone to check out. If you have any questions, feel free to leave some comments and I will answer them asap.

NOTE - I've updated the spreadsheet as I took a few more offers this week for another £100ish profit. Also got a horse race today that will give me £16.61 to take me over the £500 mark.*

That is...

Everyone who TAKES ACTION and embraces this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity!

To Mind-Blowing Profits!

Mike Cruickshank

P.S. I want to reiterate one critical point: You'll only be leveraging money you NEVER had. Every pound you make is pure profit. In other words, you use your profits... to continue growing your profits. Using other people's money is a tactic the rich have been exploiting since the dawn of human civilisation. Now it's finally your turn!

P.P.S. I profit from the same bonus offers I send you. If you were curious, here are a few screenshots of my own accounts... just to show you what you can look forward to:

A screenshot of the bet365 website. The main page shows sports betting options like Soccer, Tennis, and Horse Racing. A modal dialog box titled "Sports Balance Summary (GBP)" is open in the foreground. The dialog displays the following information:

Total Balance	775.00
Withdrawable Balance	575.00
Bonus Balance	200.00
Deposit Rollover	200.00
Deposit Rollover Requirement	200.00
Stake Rollover	200.00

The "Bonus Balance" value of 200.00 is circled in red.

P.P.P.S. Most of the people who find themselves on this website are led here from the positive Bonus Bagging Loophole word-of-mouth inundating the Internet. That's how much I value my personal reputation and the credibility of The Bonus Bagging Loophole Brand. There's such an enormous spotlight on me that I have to keep producing mind-blowing profits for everyone who joins... and I take my job seriously!

There's also quite a bit of talk about Bonus Bagging in the mainstream media. Check out this write up:

guardian.co.uk

Free bets mean you can clean up as bookies meet their match

Jason Shearer was curious when he read Guardian Money's article on free bets. Could you really beat the bookies at no risk? He followed our advice, made £770, and reckons it's even simpler than we said.

There is an old proverb that says: "In a bet there is a fool and a thief", and I'm not inclined to disagree. Could I really sit in front of my screen and make money from the bookies for nothing?

The answer, to my surprise, was yes. Over the past month I have researched and used every decent online free bet introductory offer from a bookie.

I've taken up 31 offers so far – and I've made in the region of £770. The money I have made has been absolutely risk free, it's not been about gambling but about playing the system. I don't even have to pay tax on my winnings.
